

DESERT HARBOR—A 55+ COMMUNITY—APACHE JUNCTION, AZ—JANUARY 2014

REMEMBERING OUR NEIGHBORS

By Jane Boudreau, Midge Drouin, & Margo Crawford

Each year as we begin this article we have an opportunity to remember each of our residents who have passed away during the last year. Some of the individuals were personal friends, others acquaintances and others strangers. This is a unique opportunity and privilege to share a little of their lives to each of you.

Frank Henkes

Mr. Henkes was originally from Chicago, Il moving to Desert Harbor in 2011 to live with his daughter. Mr. Henkes lived in Chicago his entire life and used public transportation never owning a car. One of his observations of Arizona was how blue the sky was and the beauty of the mountains. During his walks around the community he liked watching the quail, rabbits, and dogs. He also enjoyed the potluck dinners and the jam sessions.

Barbara Nienkark

Barbara was originally from Iowa and was a resident of Desert Harbor since 1999. Over the last few years Barb was unable to be involved in the activities in our community however, to keep her mind sharp she continued to balance the family check book. She enjoyed collecting Madame Alexander Dolls and an occasional trip to the casino.

Marjorie Nelson

Marj and Harvey moved into Desert Harbor in 1998. They were originally from Nebraska. When my husband and I were investigating Desert Harbor the first couples we met was Marj and Harv. They invited us to their home and told us about the community. Once we selected our lot we were neighbors. If Marj did not see us for a couple of days she would call and check up on us. It was great having someone close who was concerned about us. When Marj's health would no longer allow them to participate in the monthly Potluck dinners she continued to make deviled eggs for the dinner. Marj sat at her kitchen table working on her Swedish weaving and other craft projects. It was her eye on the community when she could no longer join in other activities.

Helen Rietow

Helen and Ron moved to Desert Harbor from Indiana. Helen was a very active member of our community. She organized the Halloween Parties for several years as well as writing and narrating several zany fashion shows. We could count on Helen to bring a crock-pot full of soup or her famous bean salad to our Ladies Luncheons or potluck dinners. When she introduced herself to a new resident I heard her say "I'm known as the pig lady" due to my collection of pig memorabilia." A large pink pig had taken up residence in her side yard and he was decorated for each holiday. During football season he donned her beloved Colt's jersey. Prior to becoming ill Helen chaired the Ladies Luncheon visiting and selecting a different restaurant for the ladies to attend each month.

Bill Pavkov

When I remember Bill he is wearing his brimmed hat and riding his three wheeled bike around our community looking for usable items and visiting with his neighbors. He would take off on his bike when Nancy went to the pool in the afternoon. If she was the only one at the pool he was her lifeguard. He didn't swim, so he was really there to keep her company. He was a very jovial person who enjoyed our patio and white elephant sales. He was ever watchful for a new treasure he could bring home.

Barbie Davis

Barbie never met a stranger. She loved to party and she loved southern cuisine. She never passed up an opportunity to go out to eat and enjoyed her wine with her dinners. She always had a smile, a flattering outfit, perfect coiffure, lovely eyes and a positive attitude. She may have seemed naïve, but she was nobody's fool. She was friendly with all her neighbors and maintained long distance friendships with many of the people she had met in her journeys with Harry. Barbie was never one to disparage another and would go out of her way to be helpful.

If you wanted to know the scoop of what was going on in the park, just ask Barbie. She was an inspiration to us all through her illness with her "hang in there" attitude. She was a very bright light that will be missed. And Quincy misses you, too.

COMPUTER NEEDED

Our computer(s) for the residents to use in the clubhouse are on their last leg. If you are considering buying a new computer with the wonderful Windows 8 on it, and will have the extra one just sitting there taking up space or have one that you have replaced in the past and would like to donate it to the club, we would be glad to take it off your hands. We are able to erase everything you have on it and would show you that we have so no need to worry about that. We would rather have one with Vista or higher though. XP will not be part of Microsoft after March.

Please let us know by calling Dick Smith at 480-983-5819 or e-mail at RLCKSMITH@MSN.COM.

It's that time of year...

Time to update the phone books that is. We need to know if you have new phone numbers or changed your phone numbers or changed who is living in the household. Please notify Dick Smith at 480-983-5819 or RLCKSMITH@MSN.COM or put the info in box 74 in craft room. Also, if you have an e-mail that you would like to be notified about park information, please include that as well.

Using Sticky Notes

Many years ago I learned of a program that was available for free called Sticky Notes. Now when I first learned of Sticky Notes it was just 'out there'. When I typed the name in the browser several listings came up for the notes. After researching and reading I found a good one developed by a man in England and he had just done it for fun and shared it free. The neat thing about computerized sticky notes is they stay right on your monitor screen until you no longer need them. I used them for reminding me when payments were due or what the completion date was for a project, etc. They would sleep and come back to life at a set time if that was your preference.

One of the programs that came on my Windows 7 computer is their version of Sticky Notes! At least I don't have to search the internet for the right program made by that guy in England. I kind of miss him though. I tried Sticky Notes yesterday and it is now quite easy to use although it doesn't have as many options. If you do a right click on the body of the sticky note it will give you the choice of colors available. I still haven't found if you can change the font or have them sleep but I will keep checking. If you go to start and then click accessories and then click on Sticky Notes one will pop up on your monitor screen. Last night I set one up to remind me to print the minutes for the meeting, print the breakfast poster, and do an article for the newsletter. When you no longer need to see the note you just simply close it.

Desert Harbor Patio Sale by Midge Drouin

On November 9th, Desert Harbor Activities Organization had its annual patio, bake, book, and white elephant sale. It ran from 7am till 12 noon on Saturday. The weather was perfect and sales were good. There was a previewing going on in the club house the night before where residents of the park dropped off baked goods, shopped at the white elephant tables and bought and browsed through the books, tasted the baked goodies, giving us a great start on our fundraiser.

We had 21 bakers who donated items and 42 participants having individual patio sales. The breakdown of the fundraising areas is as follows:

Book Sale	$40.00
Bake Sale	$260.40
White Elephant Sale.	$246.25
Grand Total	$546.65

As coordinator for the sale, I would like to thank all who participated that contributed to the success of this event. Look forward to the next Patio Sale next November. The date will be posted sometime in August of 2014.

Ronald Boillot

Ron was a huge sports fan especially anything having to do with the Ducks of the University of Oregon. He had the opportunity to help out in the broadcast booth however, never as a broadcaster. He simply enjoyed being a part of anything Ducks. While in the service he was stationed in Korea and there began his love of travel and anything Asian. He had plans for his fourth trip to Korea and Japan when he became ill. He was a very well read individual who exhibited great patience when dealing with stressful situations. He loved to spend time with his grandchildren.

Carolyn Heft

Carolyn was originally from Boston, MA where she retired from Malden Hospital in 1989 as a secretary. She moved to the valley about 10 years ago with her daughter and son-in-law. She enjoyed joining the ladies at the two monthly luncheons. These two venues as well as the monthly potluck dinners provided an opportunity for her to socialize with other residents. She never missed the opportunity for a trip to one of our local casinos either on a bus or with friends. Carolyn liked to travel especially with her three grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren to Disney World in Florida. Last year she was able to make the trip with one of great-grandchildren.

Ginger Shepherd Moved in to Desert Harbor October 2009. That was right after my return to Desert Harbor and we became 'across the street' neighbors. She passed away February 28, 2013. Ginger kept herself busy writing about the Prophecies. I helped her as much as I could by typing what she had written out by hand. Her husband who had passed away years ago was in construction work and they did a lot of traveling around the country which included years spent in HI. She had moved here from CA and prior to that lived in N.M. She didn't attend too many functions but when she did she was always very nicely dressed and usually arrived a little late.

Phil Thau: I met Phil when he and I were each running for positions on the Activities Board. He won the bid for President of the Activities Board and I won a seat as a Member At Large. Phil always made me think of a big ol' gentle teddy bear. He worked with great energy and enthusiasm to get activities organized and to find new avenues of entertainment for the park. Health issues caused him to resign his position much too soon. Phil passed away November 3, 2013.

Helen Elaine Kereluk

We all remember her as Elaine Kereluk. She passed on at the age of 71 in Apache Junction, Arizona. Elaine was born on January 12th, 1942 in Des Moines, Iowa. She is survived by her husband Mike, sister Carol, and sons Bob, Jim, Danny, and David. Daughters Cindy, Shelly, and Theresa and many grandchildren. Elaine will be remembered for starting up the Bible Studies in our community, and blessing the food prior to our pot lucks. She fought the "good fight" but in the end, was blessed with her Angel Wings to be with the Lord

As we begin this new year please take a moment to remember and be thankful for all our friends in Desert Harbor.

Resident's Meeting by Bob Mayo

The Resident's meeting for December was called to order at 9:00 am on December 7th by organization Vice President Jim Gabel. Following the Pledge of Allegiance the Secretary's report and the Treasurer's reports were presented and approved.

Carol Rysavy thanked people for their donations to the library and encouraged people who use the library to continue to trade books to keep a turnover of new items. Connie Riter reported that she still has 14 Coyote Coupon books for sale and urged those who have not yet purchased one to do so as the books provide many special discounts as well as providing funds for the organization. Connie also provided a brief overview of upcoming casino trips residents may enjoy including ones in February to Turf Paradise for the Gold Cup as well as a trip to California for a golf event on February 6th. More information is on the board in the clubhouse.

Dick Smith announced the web site will be down starting December 31 for a couple of weeks. This is due to the need to get the domain name changed over to Dick from Tom Hennessy. Dick has submitted a bid to make this happen. Dick also asked residents to let him know of phone number changes for the phone book as well as birthdays and anniversaries so those events can be included in the Newsletter. Residents are also encouraged to provide their email addresses to Dick. These are used by Dick and Dave Bouchard to get information out to residents about park matters which cannot wait for the newsletter or are of importance to all residents.

Frank Kosar noted that this was Pearl Harbor day in addition to announcing the monthly breakfasts would continue and on those days a free breakfast is provided for any shut-ins.

Mike Kereluk expressed his thanks and appreciation to park residents for their support as well as the many who attended the memorial for Elaine. Rich Goodrich wants to thank those who came to his assistance during his recent illness.

Kathy Gabel indicated the entertainment committee was planning to have musical entertainment on the 2nd and 4th Friday of each month.

Jim Gabel announced that the organization president Cliff Tessmer had resigned as had board member Michael Bauschard and their letters of resignation were read to the group.

Meeting was adjourned.

THANK YOU

A sincere thank you to my many friends and neighbors here in Desert Harbor for all the love and support you have given Elaine and myself. I appreciate it and I thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

November: The Month Of Bountiful Food by Margo Crawford

As I sit here this Thanksgiving Day I reflect on the past several years and can count many blessings for which I am thankful. The German Fest which was hosted by Phyllis and Cliff Tessmer and was a great success. For $8.00 per ticket we had an abundance of food and live entertainment. We had bratwurst, German potato salad, sauerkraut, red cabbage coleslaw and other foods I can't even remember at this time. There was plenty of food and if you went away hungry it certainly wasn't due to a lack of choices.

The Internationals provided live music and as to be expected there were plenty of polkas! Some of the gals were able to get on the dance floor and do the Electric Slide! It was a very well rounded evening full of applause and great smiles! I am sad to say that I don't have a list handy to name all the people who helped with the cooking and providing us with such full bellies. However, I do remember that Gregg made the potato salad and many people have requested the recipe. So, "What up Gregg?"

To continue the month of plenty we had our Thanksgiving Potluck Dinner on November 23. As happens at potlucks sometimes we do run out of food or it gets very skimpy toward the end of the roll call. But then again I think that is why it is called 'potluck'. It is very unfortunate that we do have this problem on occasion. I am very happy to say that Thanksgiving Dinner was not one of those times! We had plenty of food to share. A big thank you goes out to the people who volunteered to roast the turkeys and cook the hams. We had a prayer in which we gave our thanks for all the good food, our wonderful neighbors and a moment to remember the ones who are no longer with us in this physical world.

Card Bingo was played after dinner and those of us who didn't have football games to head home to watch stayed for games at the clubhouse. I can't say for sure who stayed and what went on after I left. but I do know that there were people just leaving the clubhouse around 11:00 p. m. I would have to say it was a very good night!

As Secretary Of The Board I would like to personally thank everyone who is helping to make this a close knit community that is full of generosity and caring. It may not always show on the tables at potluck dinners, but we always have neighbors who are willing to step up and help us when we are in need. There have been a couple of times when I came home after a potluck and made a sandwich or fixed my own dessert. Was I slightly disappointed? Of course I was. However, I would not trade living in this community for being anywhere else. As time goes on now I feel that we will all be able to adjust to what we bring to the table. I will continue to believe in our residents as we move forward.

RECYCLED GREETING CARDS WANTED

Do you have used greeting cards? There is a basket in the clubhouse that you can put them in. Only the fronts are used. Connie Riter will be sure the cards are sent to St. Jude's in Nevada. Thank you.

HEALTH ARTICLE by Midge Drouin

Best Dog Food Choices - compiled by Midge Drouin Reviewed by Amy Flowers, DVM

When it comes to nutrition, dogs are a lot like people. They're omnivores, meaning they can live healthy lives while eating a variety of food. Meats, vegetables, and grains all can be a part of a dog's diet. But also like us, dogs need balanced, moderately-sized meals that fuel their activities, not an overindulgent diet that will expand their waistlines and put them at risk of diseases like diabetes.

Know Your Dog's Needs

How much you feed your dog mainly depends on three factors:

Age, Activity level, Ideal weight

A young Australian shepherd, for example, needs a lot of exercise, and that means a lot of food to keep him going. A tiny, 10-year-old Chihuahua, though, may be more accustomed to spending her day in your lap rather than building up a big appetite.

Dog food labels often provide some guidance on portion size, but your vet will know best how much food your dog needs to maintain a healthy weight, says veterinarian Louise Murray, DVM. She's vice president of the ASPCA's Bergh Memorial Animal Hospital in New York. "Diet should be based on a dog's condition, and it should be very tailored to the dog," Murray says. "Talk to your vet."

Your vet can also recommend foods that may help protect your dog against disease, says veterinarian Chea Hall, DVM, of San Luis Obispo, Calif. Large dogs may be more likely than smaller dogs to develop arthritis, for instance. Proper nutrition may help protect your dog's joints and build up joint strength.

Know Your Dog's Food

Your vet can calculate how many calories your dog should get each day, but most dog food labels don't tell you how many calories the food provides. "One cup could be 200 calories or it could be 400, and that's a huge difference," says Hall, who recommends a mostly dry food diet because dry is generally lower in calories than canned food.

Hall's advice: Contact the food's maker for calorie and other nutritional information. You should also look for a statement on the package that says the food meets at least the minimum requirements for a healthy diet set by the Association of American Feed Control Officials (AAFCO) for your dog's life stage. Food labels often use terms like "gourmet," "natural," and "premium," Murray notes. Those words may sound appealing, but they have no standard definition when it comes to dog food -- so they tell you nothing about what's in the food. "They are not something to go by," Murray says.

Your vet can be a good guide to selecting an appropriate dog food both for your dog's health and your budget. Hall often recommends the foods sold by animal clinics, but since that's not always a convenient or affordable option, she works with people to pick out a food that works for both owner and dog. Your vet can do the same. Would you rather make your dog's meals yourself? It's crucial that you talk to your vet first to learn how to meet your dog's nutritional needs, Hall says.

Breakfast will be served on Wednesday, January 8th, from 8:00 am to 9:30 am in the Clubhouse. This month's breakfast will have a Mexican theme. The cost is $3.00 per person, pay at the door. But, please sign up so we know how many are coming. Thank you.

Coyote Coupon Books by Connie Riter

In three months, we have sold 36 Coyote Coupon Books -- thanks to so many residents who realize what a good item the books are. I have heard from several people that they have already saved more than the cost of the book. This year's book has 75 BOGO offers, 85 restaurant coupons, 42 entertainment spots, 20 golf offers, and 40 new merchants. The cost of the books is $20. We have 14 still to sell, so if you would like to purchase one, please call me at 641-7753. There are many golf and restaurant coupons to use as well as special items such as a 10 day pass to use the Apache Junction Multigenerational Center and free popcorn at the Dickinson Theater. Don't miss out on the opportunity to save money and to help out our Activities Committee. Thanks to all who have already purchased a book.

Quincy's Trip To Minot by Midge Drouin

On the morning of September 29th, Midge and her husband Dave and of course Quincy (the Desert Harbor Mascot) caught a Delta flight out of Sky Harbor to Minneapolis St. Paul, Minnesota and then on to Minot, North Dakota.

The Drouins have a brother and sister-in-law who live there and work for Century 21 selling real estate there in Minot. Quincy got to meet family and friends in town. We all got to see the flood damaged businesses that happened there two years ago. Quincy got to ride in a Hummer and when we got to Tom & Petra's house, we all got to meet Charlie, their bull mastiff dog. The weather when we got there was very cooperative for the most part with temperatures being mostly in the mid to high 60's and occasionally to the 70's with us dodging a huge snowstorm just to the south of us in South Dakota.

During our stay, we got to experience the very popular Hoostfest, a Norwegian festival (where we tried Lefse which is a Norwegian bread). Tjos fest os held every year at that time at their fairground. While we were there, we booked two celebrity shows and got to see Bill Cosby, the comedian, and the very popular musical country band, Alabama. Both shows were very entertaining.
