The history of Oktoberfest

With this knowledge you can shine in the tent

It's the world's largest folk festival — and the most popular. Every year, Oktoberfest attracts millions of visitors. Once an Oktoberfest goer, always an Oktoberfest goer. But yet very few of us know how it all began or even who we have to thank for Oktoberfest as it is known today. It's time to change that.

The first Oktoberfest: horse racing for a royal wedding

One rule still applies in the beer tents at Oktoberfest: the customer is king. Yet we have a civil officer to thank for the annual get-together of approximately six million visitors in such a cozy setting. Andreas Michael Dall'Armi, Member of the Bavarian National Guard, had the idea of celebrating a wedding a little differently for a change.

- * Whiskey Rush will perform September 9th from 6 till 9 PM. This was scheduled to be held outside, however due to the heat it will be inside.
- * Potluck will be held on September 23rd HH 4:00 Dinner at 4:30 till 5:30. No meat will be provided for this event. Immediately following we have Shaky Ground scheduled to perform from 6 until 8 PM.

With our Resident's help we were able to provide $296.00 to the Food Bank for water donations last month. We also provided 986 lbs. of food! Thank you all for your participation. We especially need to thank Stu for all his hard work gathering and distributing the food and water. Please note, donations that have a stamped expiration date cannot be used. We also cannot accept donations of eggs that are 18 count cartons.

Carol Rysavy reported that the Library is doing great. There are 2 new baskets on the table in the Library. One is for Lost and Found items the other is for freebees. The freebee items must fit in the basket! Otherwise we will not accept them. Suggest you hold larger item and put them in the Patio Sale in November.

Bea Goudeseune invited all the Ladies to the Ladies Out of the Park Luncheon held on the third Thursday every month. This month will be held at the American Legion on Meridian Drive. Meet at the Clubhouse at 11AM and car pool from there. Men are also invited this month, as their Luncheon will be at the same place.

Lori Johnson announced the Ladies Luncheon in the Park is held the first Tuesday's of each month. The theme this month will be Mexican Food.

Sandy Meyer is looking for Volunteers for our monthly events. This is an easy job, mainly just making sure all is cleaned up and food items taken home. We also need volunteers to help with the 50/50 tickets.

Beth Chartrand inquired whether anyone is interested in starting a singing group. Please let either Beth or a Board Member know if you are interested.

She also brought to our attention the broken Main Gates. This is a safety issue and people need to voice their frustration with the Office.

We also need to inquire with the Office when a Town Hall meeting will be scheduled. Things will keep sliding by if we don't stand up and say something.

The 50/50 drawing was held. Heather Alvarado won the pot of $55.00. Lot 138 was drawn for the Lot Drawing, however they were not in attendance.

Meeting was adjourned at 9:30 AM, motion to accept was provided by Rich Nienkark seconded by Paula Barker.

Please note due to changing of editor of the Newsletter some glitches were made last month. Hopefully this does not happen in the future. Remember your Board is all volunteers and tries very hard to get this information to you.

Prince Regent Ludwig of Bavaria, the later King Ludwig I, and Princess Therese of Saxony-Hildburghausen were to be honored with a huge horse race. The financier and cavalry major shared his idea with King Max I Joseph of Bavaria who was impressed from the get-go.

The couple were married on October 12, 1810, with the festivities taking place on October 17 on the grounds of Theresienwiese, to be later named after the bride, and featuring the exact horse race suggested. And even though there weren't any beer tents or fairground rides at the time, it marked the birth of Oktoberfest. In 1824, Munich city awarded Andreas Michael Dall'Armi the first gold citizens medal for 'inventing' Oktoberfest. He is buried at Alter Südfriedhof cemetery and a street has been named after him in the neighborhood of Neuhausen-Nymphenburg.

1819: Oktoberfest becomes top priority

In 1810, a year after the wedding celebrations, everyone was in agreement: We want more! Without the royal wedding, the festival naturally needed a new organizer and that became the 'Landwirtschaftlicher Verein in Bayern' [Bavarian agricultural association]. The newfound festivities created the perfect opportunity for the association to shine a spotlight on their own wares. As was notorious at the time, one big historical event followed after the other, which is why by 1813 the newly established Oktoberfest already had to be cancelled for the first time on account of the Napoleonic wars. After the war, Oktoberfest was financed privately until the city's forefathers made the event a top priority in 1819. Even in the uppermost circles, the news had arrived that the Oktoberfest was guaranteed to draw a crowd, and that it would generate a wealth of revenue and should therefore be celebrated annually.

Oktoberfest in the 19th century: Bavaria, milestones and challenging years

In 1850, there was another event that was really worth celebrating: The statue of Bavaria, guardian of Oktoberfest and symbolic figure of Bavaria state, was unveiled and dedicated a place in the hall of fame. But this historical

1980: An attack shakes up the Oktoberfest

It still took a while from the historic Oktoberfest to the event as we know it today. For the 100th anniversary of the Oktoberfest, in 1910, 12,000 hectoliters of beer were served in the Pschorr-Bräurosl, the largest festival tent at the time with 12,000 seats. Every year, new and increasingly exciting rides were added to the Oktoberfest. In the first half of the 20th century, due to the two world wars and economic crises, the Oktoberfest was cancelled several times or had to be held as a smaller autumn festival. After World War II, the once obligatory horse race only takes place in the anniversary years of 1960 and 2010.

In 1950, Munich's mayor Thomas Wimmer tapped the first beer barrel at the Schottenhamel for the first time. Since then, it has been a tradition that the Oktoberfest tapping is done by the Lord Mayor. The famous words "O'zapft is" now have cult status.

On September 26, 1980, a bomb exploded at the main entrance to the Oktoberfest, killing 13 people and injuring over 200 visitors. Among the victims was the assassin Gundolf Köhler himself. The Oktoberfest attack is considered one of the worst attacks in German history. Investigations into the case were reopened in 2014

O'zapft is, brass band music, Oide Wiesn: that's how we celebrate today

Today, Oktoberfest is the world's largest folk festival and it draws around six million visitors annually. Each year, it continues to break new records from the quantity of beer consumed through to the amount of chicken devoured. In 2005, a 'quiet Oktoberfest' was introduced to make the world's largest folk festival more attractive to families. Business owners are only allowed to play party music after 6 p.m. and can only play Bavarian brass band music prior to that time.

Ancient Origins of Halloween

Halloween's origins date back to the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain (pronounced sow-in). The Celts, who lived 2,000 years ago, mostly in the area that is now Ireland, the United Kingdom and northern France, celebrated their new year on November 1.

This day marked the end of summer and the harvest and the beginning of the dark, cold winter, a time of year that was often associated with human death. Celts believed that on the night before the new year, the boundary between the worlds of the living and the dead became blurred. On the night of October 31 they celebrated Samhain, when it was believed that the ghosts of the dead returned to earth.

In addition to causing trouble and damaging crops, Celts thought that the presence of the otherworldly spirits made it easier for the Druids, or Celtic priests, to make predictions about the future. For a people entirely dependent on the volatile natural world, these prophecies were an important source of comfort during the long, dark winter.

To commemorate the event, Druids built huge sacred bonfires, where the people gathered to burn crops and animals as sacrifices to the Celtic deities. During the celebration, the Celts wore costumes, typically consisting of animal heads and skins, and attempted to tell each other's fortunes.

When the celebration was over, they re-lit their hearth fires, which they had extinguished earlier that evening, from the sacred bonfire to help protect them during the coming winter.

Even though Halloween won't be here until the end of this month it's not too early to start planning for the Salvation Army Christmas Angel Program.

Every child deserves to experience the joy of Christmas morning opening presents from Santa. The Salvation Army Angel Tree program helps provide Christmas gifts for thousands of children in the Phoenix area each year. When a child has been registered and accepted as an Angel, their Christmas wish list is shared with donors in the metropolitan area who purchase gifts of new clothing and/or toys. The gifts are distributed to the families to place under their family Christmas tree.

Last year, we participated in the Salvation Army Christmas Angel Program providing gifts for 40 children. This year our goal is to provide gifts for 60 children. Gifts collected by us will be distributed to children in Apache Junction. I will be contacting the Salvation Army to get the specific dates for this year's program and for 60 angel tags.

More information will be available in the November newsletter.

RECIPES

Do you have a favorite recipe or one that others really seem to enjoy?
If you want to included in our next News send it to me and I'll include in the next Newsletter, space permitting.

Cherries-and-Cream Icebox Cake

Serving size: 12 Prep time: 8 hours 25 mins Provided by Linda Borntraeger

Ingredients

- .5 cup plus 1 Tbsp. cherry preserves (from 1 [13-oz.] jar, such as Bonne Maman)
- 4 cups heavy whipping cream, divided
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, divided
- .75 teaspoon almond extract, divided
- 1 (8-oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
- .75 cup plus 3 Tbsp. powdered sugar, divided
- 21 (2 ¼- x 5-inch) graham crackers (from 1 [14.4-oz. pkg.])
- Fresh cherries, for topping

Directions

- 1. Process cherry preserves in a food processor until completely smooth, 1 to 2 minutes; set aside.
- 2. Beat 3 cups of the cream, 1 teaspoon of the vanilla, and ½ teaspoon of the almond extract with a stand mixer fitted with whisk attachment on medium speed until foamy, about 30 seconds. Increase speed to medium-high, and beat until stiff peaks form, 1 to 2 minutes; set aside.
- 3. Beat cream cheese, ¾ cup of the powdered sugar, and 3 tablespoons of pureed cherry preserves in a large bowl with an electric mixer on medium speed until smooth and completely combined, about 2 minutes. Gently fold one-third of whipped cream mixture into cream cheese mixture until thoroughly combined. Repeat in 2 more additions with remaining whipped cream mixture.
- 4. Lightly coat a 9-inch springform pan with cooking spray. Line bottom of pan with a layer of graham crackers, breaking them in order to cover bottom (don't worry if there are some small gaps). Spread 2 cups whipped cream mixture over graham crackers. Dollop with 1 tablespoon pureed cherry preserves; swirl with a wooden skewer or the tip of a knife. Repeat layers 3 more times with remaining graham crackers and whipped cream mixture and 3 tablespoons of the remaining preserves, ending with whipped cream mixture and preserves. Cover; chill 8 to 24 hours.
- 5. Before serving, beat remaining 1 cup cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and ¼ teaspoon almond extract with a stand mixer fitted with whisk attachment on medium speed until foamy, about 30 seconds. Increase speed to medium-high, and gradually add remaining 3 tablespoons powdered sugar; beat until medium peaks form, 1 to 2 minutes. Remove cake from springform pan; spread top with whipped cream. Dollop remaining 1 tablespoon preserves onto whipped cream; swirl gently with a wooden skewer or the tip of a knife. Top with fresh cherries.
